Class History

Our High School finds place in a store of memories treasured up through all of our four years. The spirit of good-fellowship holding us together, we went with interest into Geometry; we shouted ourselves hoarse when the ball went over a goal post or into a basket; we experienced the thrill of amateur actors.

Now, we as Seniors open our memory chest and recount the years so crowded with experiences.

Our girls of '17½ meet together in their Freshman year and called themselves after the good ship Argo. The next term they began their activities with the "Temple of Fame" and later with the same stick-together spirit, presented "Daddy-Long-Legs."

Our girls of '18 organized the L. O. L.'s with a desire to study all that was good in literature. They planned Irish, Valentine and George Washington parties, the last one always most attractive.

We have ten Speakers and nine Wranglers, girls and boys who worked to make the debates successes and other activities best.

Music has found talent among us while Latin and German have interested others.

We, too, have had strong men in athletics; hard-fighting football men who could hold cadets and soldiers; basketball men to pile up a score of 176 against their opponents 120; baseball men to give us a victory over old rivals.

Behind these teams there has been a loyal crowd of A. B. C.'s founded by boys of our class. They paid this year's athletic debt by producing "The Private Secretary."

Most of all we are proud to display a service flag with its three stars; the first for David Winn; the second for Clyde Huff; the third for Willard Richards. We are proud too, that we could help in the Bazaar that made money to buy books for our soldiers, in the Thrift Stamp Campaign, in the Liberty Loan Drive, with Red Cross Work, and to make some little French Orphans happy.

A Photographic Exposure

Time.—1928.

Place.—New York City.

"Have you the pictures, Helen?" asked Mary Hester as she greeted Helen Klossie, Alma Borkenheim, Annetta Helek and Edith McDonald in her apartment on Fifth Avenue.

"Yes, and there is the grandest one of Hubby Shrader," replied Helen, wondering if the rest noticed that she shook hands with the butler, who did, indeed, resemble Dick Zimmerman strikingly.

"Girls, we must be growing old. To think it is the end of ten years, the time that the class agreed to send pictures to each other. Field Sauer expressed the box to me from Chicago, where he has the headquarters of the American Lyceum Bureau. Teddy Lang, his secretary, writes that a group of Senior talent is to tour America soon. Hazel Genung is the dramatic reader and Carl Fein, Beatrice Ehalt and Clara Seibel, musicians. Then there is a cast, which includes Louis Hannon, Bernard Wallace and Bill Fawcett, called the befitting name of "High School Players." Edward Thomas is stage director, "Sleepy" Martin, advertiser, and Mary Strain, the ticket seller."

"And what about the Harris boys?" asked Alma.

"Well, Robert and Irwin Murphy are doing some kind of scientific research work at the University of California. Lester Sisloff, the dean, writes that Carl was almost frantic because his book on "Hygrametry" was not a success. Ida Mae Goodbub suggested that he change the name to "The True Heart" and now it is a "best seller."

"Oh! here's Hazel McCulloch," cried Mary recognizing a winsome Red Cross Nurse. Our class should certainly be proud of her and Pearl and Etta—the three "angels of mercy."

"And of Dick Richards," said Annetta. "To think that he routed a whole German division at once!"

Puzzled, the girls bent over the photographs. Could these two eminent looking men be Les Emery and Gilbert Marsh? Ah, how thrilling it must be to be a comedian like Ray Ruff or a matinee idol like "Jelly" Hauswald. And of course, Helen Robertson and Helen Bussey after their aerial flight over Berlin, and just missing bombing the Kaiser, could be expected to tilt their chins a little.

Next, a Paris paper clipping was found, the girls looked into the face of Annette. "Thousands Cheer Mademoiselle Barrett's Playing" they read.

Mary laughed, as she gave Edith a charming little picture of Dean. Joe sends greetings but can not take time from his book "Value of a Co-ed High School" to have photograph taken, was the message.

"Wasn't that terrible about Dr. Elsie Osborn's patent medicine?" asked Alma. "It was declared by Chief Detective Kiser and Drug Inspector Schaefer to be a fake. But then Mabel Standiford wrote me that Pat Brubeck wrote her that Geneva Rhodes says that Violet Schmidt said that Clarice Worley tried it for the headache and it cured her after only five days."

"Extra" came a cry of a newsboy. Secretary of War Wright loses office! President Wolfe, appoints Jennie Miller as successor. Senators Beach and Walk quarrel in Congress! Order restored by Sergeant-at-arms, Michel. Miss Rapp and Miss Furnas nominated on opposite tickets for Congress!"

The girls turned again to their pictures. This time it was Charles Norman, whom they knew to be lecturing to women on Vess Marshall's book "Restoration of Men's Rights."

"I saw Ruth Sonner starring in the 'Siege of the Young Lovers' last night," said Alma, "and that reminds me of Grace Dykman. I hear that Lee Bussey has pronounced her portrait of Emily McBride as surpassing the Mona Lisa."

Mystified, the girls drew forth a book called "Simplified Chemistry." On the frontispiece was the face of Margaret Nirmaier with the words "Sympathetically dedicated to Paul Ziegelbauer, Instructor of Chemistry at N. A. H. S."

"And now, one more surprise!" cried Helen. "Betty Heib is to be at the Metropolitan tonight. Let's go and take supper afterwards at Butler's and Foley's!"

Wranglers

The Wranglers' one misfortune is that practically all of its members belong to other school organizations and participate in their activities but the Wranglers fail to receive full credit. Such was the case on Sept. 28, when the Side Show was given at the H. S. Bazaar and on April 12-13 when the A. B. C.'s gave "The Private Secretary" for the support of athletics.

December 27 brought the Ninth Annual Banquet.

The Wrangler-L. B. H. S. Dual Debate of March 15, resulted in a tie with Louisville, and the organization of the Lyceum Club, the organization which has made $70 on the debate, the four times it was given.

At the Wrangler Cafeteria Dinner, May 9, the boys made $8.03, to be added to the French Orphan Fund.

Critic—Mr. Cotton.

Team work and co-operation minus individual starrng gave N. A. H. S. ONE of the finest Foot Ball Seasons ever known, which resulted in scoring 74 points to our opponents 37; losing 1 game, tying 2, and winning 5. With a team having that "Old Bulldog grit," it was able to hold L. B. H. S. to 25 points, even after shifting two new men into the backfield at the last minute.

Minus two of the regular backfield men, the team due to hard and heavy playing wiped out part of its former defeat by beating St. Xavier, 7 to 0.

After traveling to K. M. I. in a drizzling rain to test themselves against the Cadets, the team, all playing together for the first time, held the Cadets scoreless and in the third quarter received 2 points from a safety, giving the only score of the game to H. S.

Invading the territory of St. Xavier, the team came home with the big end of a score of 19 to 0, thus totally wiping out our past defeat.

Again invading Kentucky territory, the team journeyed to E'town, where the roughest and hardest game was fought. After being hammered and pounded by those big country boys, rather men, N. A. H. S. dragged home with her a victory of 13 to 6.

After defeating Huntingburg 27 to 0, a 6 to 6 tie was played with the 334th Depot Brigade, a game noted for its clean, sportsman-like conduct of both teams.

The Thanksgiving Day game, the only spot on our seasons record, resulted in a scoreless tie played with Calumets. Although H. S. by fair means pushed the ball several times to the 2-yard line, by some means, fair or otherwise, she always was penalized, thus preventing her from scoring.

Basketball

The team started out as a winner, and kept up the good work with a few minor reverses throughout the whole season.

Much was expected of the team this year, as it was composed of four last-year letter men and two of last year's first string men. Our expectations and hopes were fully granted. The first game of the season ended like this, New Albany, 35; West Baden, 5. Other games were as easily won, later in the season.

Of course, a few stumbling blocks, such as Louisville and Scottsburg were encountered, but the team fully squared themselves by trouncing the Y. M. I. strong squad.

No certain one of the team can be proclaimed the star, for, although Hauswald, Shrader and Burke made more baskets than did Kiser or Winter, nevertheless, it was the careful guarding of these two that helped win the games as well as the crack shooting of the forwards and center.

The season was a successful one, not only from the standpoint of games won, but because of the teamwork and spirit displayed.

The "N" men are Burke, Sisloff, Hauswald, Kiser, Shrader, Winter and Scott.

SENIOR BLEETER

1918 Baseball Team

The N. A. H. S. 1918 baseball season was a real success. Never before has the school put such a hard-hitting, sure-fielding, never-give-up spirited team on the field.

We have an excellent record considering the teams we played. The management booked games only with the schools larger than ours and we proved our ability to beat worthy opponents and didn't have to play small schools to attain a successful season.

Never before in the history of N. A. H. S. has one of her athletic teams defeated the consolidated Louisville Boys' High School, but at Glenwood, on April 17, thru the air-tight pitching of Miller and the brilliant defensive work of the team behind him, we succeeded in accomplishing that which our athletes have tried to do in past years.

Not because of individual starrng, but by the consistent, hard, teamwork playing of every man on the team, we achieved success.

The lineup and batting order:

*W. Fawcett	Catcher
Biel	Third Base
Burke	Shortstop
K. Fawcett	Pitcher and Center Fielder
Hauswald	First Base
Marshall	Right Field
Winters	Second Base
Elliott and Stein	Left Field
Miller	Pitcher

Commencement of the closing of our school session means more this year than it ever has during the history of our school. It means that every young man and young lady in our high school must use his very best efforts to succeed in winning the war.

The world, as you know, is in a topsy-turvy condition brought about through things over which our government has no control. It is up to you to help bring it out of this chaotic condition. Our brave Allies are looking to the United States to be the ones to bring ultimate victory, and the United States in turn is looking to the youths of the country for their salvation. You must fill the places that are now vacated by our brave boys and girls who are abroad. You must do it well. Help sell Liberty Bonds, War Stamps and any other honorable effort that our country demands. Put your young shoulders to the wheel and push—push hard—then get around in front and buck with all your young might. Patriotism and honorable peace will be achieved—Peace with Honor—and all will see that the young and sturdy people of the United States were the great factor in saving the Civilization of the World

As Each Day Dawns

Suddenly, across the sky, great rose-hued bars steal forth, dispelling the morning mist, soon to be followed by a beautiful yellow orb—another day has dawned, another fraction of life is here, bringing new opportunities.

Yesterday is passed; tomorrow never comes; today must be filled with good things, if we are to progress.

Here in this store we strive to make each day a successful unit in the months and years of our business. Each of your visits a pleasant, profitable part of your friendship for this store.

For these are the things that strengthen the bond between us, and permit us to look forward to your continued good will.

Our future depends upon doing each day's duties well.

The Students of today are the Citizens of tomorrow

Would you build a weak foundation under your house!

Then don't neglect the students in our schools; back them solidly and give them encouragement in their activities that they may be strong to bear their future burdens.

At the same time never forget that the environment surrounding them is a vital factor in their life. A better city makes better citizens, and again, better citizens make a better city.

Our honest intention and purpose is to make New Albany an excellent city in which to do business, work and live.
